

SNOW SOLUTION

In a calm winter day ,while snow is everywhere. The streets are being cleaned. We hear a snow plow roaring from a distance.

The snow plow is moving the pile of snow , then it stops. Pirate Joe is coming out from it.

The town looks amazing! It took PIRATE JOE a whole day to do it, while he was supposed to finish it in a few hours.

A whistling noise comes out of the snow plow. It seems the engine temperature is high. BLUE asked him to drive the snow plow. Captain agrees, but when the engine cools down.

While Blue, Swimmy, Happy and Birdy are on the top of the hill playing with the snow. SWIMMY suggested to bring their sleighs, so everybody runs to the town to get their sleighs.

They are running while pushing their sleighs and start the race. After they got speed, they jump on their sleighs. Happy starts to release the air from the balloons and uses it as a propeller. But the air from the balloons ends fast and Blue is catching up to him.

Swimmy glides on the thin layer of ice and catches them up. Birdy starts to help himself with his wings and takes the lead. Blue uses his hands to push himself from the snow.

Swimmy takes his scuba fins and makes the same with them. The competition is very high. Happy is blowing up new balloon, this time he is using it as a sail.

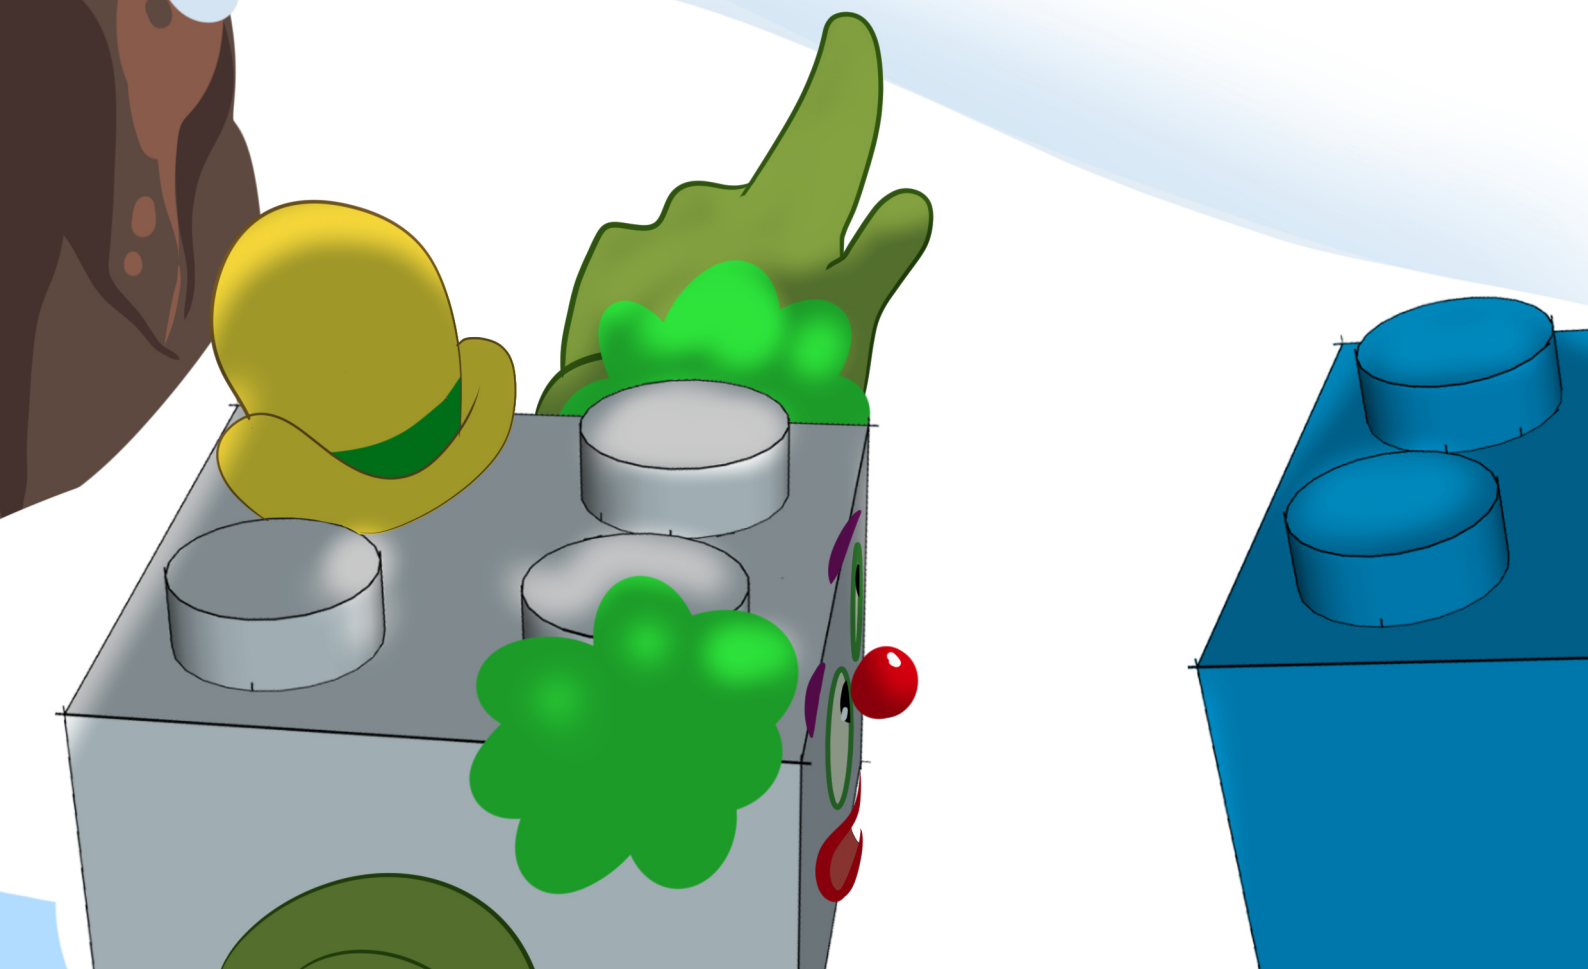

They are almost at the bottom of the hill when a strong wind blows and takes the sail of Happy well ahead of the others. Happy wins. He starts to celebrate.

Happy's celebration doesn't continue for long. He is turning back to the hill and sees that their race provoked an avalanche.

His eyes are opening wider and wider. The others see him and turn back. They see the avalanche, too.

They use their sleighs and the techniques they used in the race to run away from the avalanche.

In a couple of minutes, everything calms down and they see that the whole town is covered in snow. There is no sign in the streets.

They have to be cleaned again. Pirate Joe will punish them because he cleaned the town the whole day.

But immediately the machine starts to make strange noises. The radiator is whistling, and smoke is coming from under the bonnet. Happy takes a ball with snow and is shoving it down the radiator's pipe, so smoke disappeared.

Everybody celebrates! The truck drives and stops, drives and stops, but after a while they got the hang of it and manage to drive smoothly.

They look satisfied with their work. Pirate Joe is coming out of his house, and he looks surprised. Top view of the town.

The streets are cleaned in zig-zag. Most of the mailboxes are broken and the snow is not in one big pile, but in many little ones. Pirate Joe starts to cry.

BLUE told him that they discovered a new way to cool the engine with snow. Happy pushes a piece of snow toward the engine. The engine sound calms down. Everybody laugh.
